Brno Underground

Brno Underground

Only a few places in the Czech Republic can boast such an exceptional phenomenon as this extensive labyrinth of underground corridors, tunnels, crypts, and cellars.

Did you know that the remains of more than 50,000 bodies were found in the ossuary under St. James' Church?

Or that the corridors, including the emergency exits, in the 10-Z Bunker are nearly 600 metres long?

Come with us and explore history through five sites in the Brno Underground!

All information at:

ŽLUTÝ KOPEC WATER TANKS

An experience like from another world of long-lost civilizations or scenes from computer games. That's how visitors perceive this unique technical monument. Two brick and one concrete water tank from the years 1874, 1894, and 1917 served their purpose until 1997, and in 2019, they were successfully placed under heritage protection and gradually made accessible to the public. The complete trio of water tanks was opened to the public in 2024, and the public can view them in almost their original condition.

LABYRINTH UNDER THE VEGETABLE MARKET

Unique and secret recesses of historical corridors and cellars underneath one of the oldest squares in Brno. This walk through history will show you how the cellars were used when they were created and introduce you to important figures in Brno's history. The tour involves conquering 212 stairs.

An extensive section of the underground located in the lower part of the square is designated for social use. It can be rented for cultural, culinary, and other events.

THE CELLAR UNDER THE NEW TOWN HALL

A beautiful and mysterious place beneath the New Town Hall and Dominican Square (Dominikánské náměstí) offers a multimedia exhibition on legends from Brno called Fiery Horse and Dragon (Ohnivý kůň a drak). You'll be taken to the Middle Ages, the time of the Thirty Years' War, and other historical periods through illustrations and animations, thanks to which you'll find yourself, for example, at a medieval market examining the things people once forgot there.

OSSUARY AT ST. JAMES' CHURCH

The second-largest ossuary in Europe. It was probably established in the 17TH century as a set of three burial chambers. This complex contains more than 50,000 human remains from the Thirty Years' War and the Swedish Siege as well as victims of cholera and plague epidemics.

DENIS BUNKER

900 metres of vaulted passages, cut into the rock below Petrov Hill. A system of passages, intersecting at right angles. In the event of a nuclear attack, it would have been possible to survive inside the shelter for up to 4 days. In terms of water, electricity and a breathable air mixture, the shelter was self-sufficient. Cramped spaces could have provided refuge for up to 3000 inhabitants.

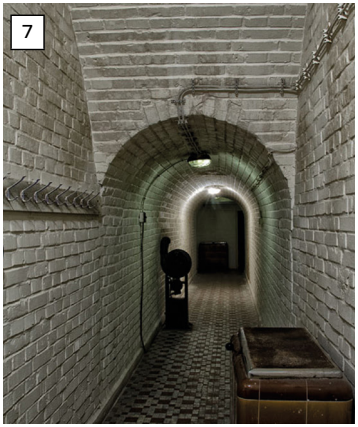

Opening hours on the website.

WATER TANKS AND BASTION AT ŠPILBERK

Špilberk Castle invites you to its unique underground spaces: the repaired water tanks, which originally supplied the city of Brno with water (and now houses a lapidary), and the bastion – an impressive example of fortress construction in earlier times.

10-Z BUNKER

10-Z is the code name for supposedly the most secret bunker in Brno from the time of communism, meant for municipal and regional representatives. It was originally built during the Nazi occupation as a civil defense (Luftschutz) shelter to protect from American and Soviet bombardment of Brno. This important technical monument has its own water supply, electricity generator, and telephone switchboard. You will receive a map at the entrance and can set out on your own to explore the winding tunnels.

CAPUCHIN CRYPT

On the picturesque square in the heart of Brno, you will find a Capuchin church and a crypt below it, which in the years 1656–1784 was used to bury the order's brothers and benefactors. An ingenious ventilation system that kept the crypt well-ventilated for centuries caused the bodies of the deceased to mummify naturally.
